AROMA & PALATE

Dark red crimson hues with lifted cassis, dried herbs and cedary oak notes all coming together in a heady mix of floral aromatics. Ripe black fruits accompanied by a refreshing bright palate revealing the classic regional Heathcote characters of bay leaf, eucalypt-mint. Bold generous mid-palate with ripe well defined tannins. Exceptional concentration and purity of varietal expression combining with structure and elegance. A wine that is both fine edged and free flowing. Can be enjoyed in its youth, but will also equally reward those with the patience to cellar for a further 6 – 10 years.

WHAT THEY'RE SAYING ABOUT US

95 POINTS – HALLIDAY WINE COMPANION 2026

“Winemaker Hamish MacGowan has respected and not overshadowed the wine's impressive aromatics and elegance with oak but, rather, has enhanced them beautifully. Violet, black berries, dried herbs and baking spices rise from the glass. The well-crafted palate is built on ripe fruit flesh, gentle leafy elements and earth, bay leaf, mint, spice and pencil oak, arriving compact in tannin and, in equal parts, fine edged and free flowing.”

94 POINTS – KEN GARGETT

“Notes of blackberries, blueberries, coffee beans, bay leaves and aniseed. There are notes of vanillin oak evident, which has integrated impressively. The wine has both balance and length and maintains its intensity throughout, finishing with fine tannins. So much to like here. Enjoy this over the next ten to fifteen years. Drink: 2026 – 2041.”

93 POINTS – TONY LOVE

“This is no shy beast of a Cabernet. Varietal cassis and blackcurrant with a fair deal of cedary oak notes to begin. Big, chewy and thick with Cabernet's varietal tannins, there's little left to the imagination except for choosing what cut of prime beef to serve in its presence.”

93 POINTS – NICOLE BILSON

The flagship wine by Angus The Bull. Blackberries and liquorice greet you on the nose, lifted by fresh blueberries, violets, and a hint of spearmint. Beautifully managed new French oak adds a rich, heady, nutmeg and cedar spice. It's bold but balanced. The tannins are gorgeous – ripe, round and just-slightly chewy in the best possible way. A perfect winter red, that promises to reward those patient enough to cellar too.

95 POINTS – JENNI PORT

“A striking wine of impressive concentration. Nicely evolved and capable of some serious cellaring down the track, combining a mix of heady floral aromatics, leaf and dried herbs with ripe black berries together with regional trademark bay leaf, eucalyptus. Fine tannins line the wine, offering good balance and structure.”

94 POINTS – TOM KLINE

“Opens with cedar, blackcurrant, black cherry, plum, earth and bay leaf. On the palate, a generous pulse of dark fruit, blackberry, black cherry and plum. Firm, well-resolved tannins carry the wine through a finish of commendable length. A strong release that carries a sense of elegance.”

93 POINTS – BRENDAN BLACK

It's a lovely wine that announces itself well with a beautiful nose of black fruits (blackberry, mulberry and black cherry), a touch of smoke and some dark choc. The palate is silky, concentrated and flavourful, with teeth-coating juice and chewy tannins.

93 POINTS – RAY JORDON

The season proved pretty good for red wines in Heathcote, and this one is loaded to the gunwales with dark, ripe black fruits. Blackcurrant, olive tapenade, and ironstone aromatics greet initially, then roll through to a generous, rich, and concentrated palate. A dark swirl of powerful fruits and a decent lick of oak.
